LOVE NOT THE WORLD!

Nothing is more dangerous to the souls of men than the love of the world. Nothing more effectually chokes out the influence of the gospel in a man's heart than the cares of this world. Nothing is more difficult to avoid than an undue attachment to this world. Therefore, John sets these four words up as a beacon. They stand in blazing letters to warn us of great danger. "LOVE NOT THE WORLD:"

Beloved, this world and all that it offers is no more than a bubble that soon must burst. Your money, your farms, your houses, your influence, your families, everything here is temporary. It will all vanish away. We laugh at the small child who cries when the bubbles he is playing with burst. But, for a rational man to be so attached to a bubble is a most irrational thing.

Are you God's child? Are you risen with Christ? Do you live in the hope of eternal glory? Then count this world to be a dead thing. Live no longer for this world. Set your heart on things above. Live above this pile of rubbish that must soon burn. Live to do the will of God, seek the glory of Christ, further the gospel of the grace of God, and serve the people of God. Quit seeking those things for which unbelieving men live; and seek those things which are above: life, immortality, and glory. "If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him."

May the Lord God graciously burn these words into your heart and mine - "LOVE NOT THE WORLD!"

THE ORDINANCE OF GOD

Romans 13:2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

God has ordained order and authority in His world. Even in nature we see this. Also, in our homes, in our society and in the church. To rebel against God's established authority is to rebel against God Himself. That simple. Authority and submission begin in the home.

Children are to obey their parents in the Lord, simply because it's right (Eph 6:1). You do not need another reason, nor an explanation. All rebellion against all authority is outward expression of a heart that is rebellious against God. We all are born with such a heart. Children do not have to be taught to rebel; they do it naturally. They must be disciplined and taught that there are consequences to rebellion. The word "damnation" in the verse means "judgment," and in the home this is what I like to call a good spanking. Don't listen to what modern parenting experts say. Listen to what God says (Prov 23:13-14).

Unrestrained children grow up to be unruly adults, and then what seemed like small compromises and leniency out of kindness, all of a sudden has much greater consequences. Childhood willfulness becomes adult rebellion which can often very quickly spiral out of control until there is bitter sorrow and spanking doesn't seem that brutal anymore. God says, Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it (Prov 22:6).

It may seem like a joke to some to say of a wife, "well, we know who wears the pants in that family," but it is not funny when God has clearly ordained that a man be the head of his house (Eph 5:22-23), and that order is refused and overturned. Many will be the sorrow that will result from it.

In God's church, He has raised up Pastors, to have authority, in love and out of a desire for Christ to be exalted, worshipped and glorified in the church, and for God's people to be edified, blessed, taught and mature in the faith. All of this comes by the preaching of Christ crucified by a man who by God's grace is determined to know nothing else.

GOD HONORS THOSE WHO HONOR HIS SON

Genesis 35: 2: Then Jacob said unto his household, and to all that were with him, Put away the strange gods that are among you, and be clean, and change your garments. 3: And let us arise, and go up to Bethel; and I will make there an altar unto God, who answered me in the day of my distress, and was with me in the way which I went. 4: And they gave unto Jacob all the strange gods which were in their hand, and all their earrings which were in their ears; and Jacob hid them under the oak which was by Shechem.

Jacob's dear wife Rachel brought an idol out of her father's house into Jacob's house when she married Jacob. Now, thirty years later, Jacob's whole family was worshipping strange gods. Jacob had turned a blind eye to it all. But when God makes his word effectual, he says to his child, "Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump." So Jacob essentially said to his family, "Put away all these idols, we are going to God's house to worship through Christ our Altar."

Sinner's must be granted repentance from dead idols by the Holy Spirit's inward washing. The garment of Christ's righteousness must be put upon us through faith in Christ. By God's grace when the inside is made new the outward will follow. The babe in Christ will begin to turn from his idols, his sinful deeds and the love of this world that he might follow Christ and adorn the doctrine of our Lord Jesus Christ.

But Jacob could not produce that in the hearts of those in his house! No, but God could! All Jacob was responsible to do was to declare the Truth to those in his house and bring them to the house of God. Jacob honored God by doing so and God honored Jacob by making his house obedient—"And they gave unto Jacob all the strange gods which were in their hand, and all their earrings which were in their ears; and Jacob hid them under the oak which was by Shechem."

Here is the lesson: let us take sides with God, bring our families under the gospel and teach them the truth of Christ. We might be surprised to see God bless it so that our loved ones repent and believe God. It is no guarantee that God will save all in our house. But this much is certain, God honors those who honor his Son (1 Sam 2:30).
